

Therapist Coverage

To best meet your child's needs, the staff at Curative New Berlin Therapies aims to see your child at the recommended frequency to help your child reach his/her optimum potential and achieve goals that have been set.

In order to accomplish this, Curative New Berlin Therapies has a plan in place to provide coverage for those times when your child's therapist is out due to illness, vacation, or attending continuing education opportunities.

To assist with your child in receiving the best possible care from a covering therapist, our team completes the following:

- The primary therapist reviews your child's case with the covering therapist, including routines, goals, treatment techniques that are used, and preferred toys/activities.
- The primary therapist provides the covering therapist with the paperwork that is needed to provide continuity of care.
- Every effort is made to find a coverage therapist with the needed skill set to best meet the needs of your child.
- The front desk staff will explore all available options to find a time slot that works with your schedule.

The positive benefits of working with a covering therapist include:

- A fresh look at your child's needs, treatment approaches and progress.
- The opportunity to get new suggestions for treatment ideas and goals.
- The opportunity for your child to learn the new skill of adapting to working with other people.

Thank you for committing to this experience and helping us assist your child in reaching his/her full potential.
